

Get Your Content To Go

Zia Consulting's Fresh Docs mobile application allows users to access enterprise content management (ECM) systems from any iPhone, iPad or iPod touch. With Fresh Docs, users can browse, search, retrieve, open, download and email documents from any ECM system on a mobile phone or tablet device. Fresh Docs enables users to use their ECM content in mobile productivity applications, adding more business value to mobile devices. Best of all, Fresh Docs is available for FREE from the Apple iTunes Store.

Make It Your Own

But Fresh Docs is more than just a mobile application, it's truly a mobile CMS platform.

For organizations that require a mobility solution, Zia offers an enterprise version of Fresh Docs that offers private distribution, corporate branding, customized features, and enterprise integration - with Zia professional services to deliver and support the application.

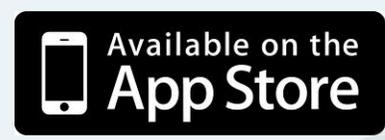

In addition, Zia offers an OEM version of Fresh Docs, for companies that want to embed mobile CMS functionality within mobile productivity applications or even ECM offerings, to add further business value to mobile devices.

The Technology:

Fresh Docs leverages the Content Management Interoperability Services (CMIS) specification to communicate with leading ECM systems including Alfresco, IBM FileNet P8, Microsoft SharePoint, Nuxeo and OpenText. Fresh Docs securely communicates with any CMIS compliant ECM repository. Users can configure Fresh Docs to connect to a repository using wireless technology built into the device. The connection supplies an authenticated user to provide a custom view of the ECM system.

Features:

- iOS native application for mobile access to ECM systems
- Connect to any CMIS repository supporting the CMIS AtomPub protocol binding
- Authenticate to an ECM repository
- Multi-account support
- Browse the ECM content that the users can access
- View content metadata directly in the application
- Search the ECM system from a mobile device
- Identify favorite content for easy access later
- Open content in other applications to access robust productivity applications available on the mobile device
- E-Mail content using the device's native email support
- Capture & Upload Photos, video and audio
- Split-view display on iPad

The Mobile Content Hub

Mobile technology and applications are transforming the way people work and interact with content. What makes mobile so appealing is how workers can execute their workload on mobile devices anywhere, anytime. Workers are no longer tied to a desktop computer. This opens up a world of possibilities for businesses.

Mobile devices provide people the freedom to access, create and edit content – regardless of location. This growing tech-savvy workforce expects to have the same flexibility with their business content as they do with personal information. Smartphones and tablets by design make it easier for users to view larger amounts of content. No longer does an employee, sales representative, service technician have to print out documents for a meeting or customer visit – they can be accessible on a tablet device. They can close deals, view product information, finalize reports, and gather information from a handheld device.

Zia's Mobile Professional Services

- Branded application with custom name, icon, graphics, colors, and about screen
- Internationalization of the text throughout the application
- Enterprise application deployments for in-house application delivery
- Deployment of customized applications to the Apple App Store or Android Marketplace
- Application customization to meet an organization's business requirements
- Application support and training
- Integration with other business or mobile applications

Look to the Content People at Zia

Zia Consulting is a leading provider of enterprise business solutions for content management from paper to mobile.

When you are looking for content-centric solutions for your enterprise, you need to work with the right people. People who are driving Enterprise Mobility technology, experts in Enterprise Integration and Cloud Ready solutions. People who will connect you with industry leading partners and technology. People with a proven track record of delivering measurable business results, on time, within budget. The right people are the Content People at Zia Consulting. Zia is an organization of Content People, providing innovative solutions and opening up new possibilities in a content anywhere environment.

Partnering with industry leading open source technology providers allows Zia to provide their clients with the benefits of content management solutions that conform to the needs of your business and to your budget.

Content anywhere, solutions here.